

February Newsletter 2017

Principal's Voice:

Welcome to the February Newsletter. The School Council are organising Valentine's Day for the children and they will send a letter out next week. At their meeting they discussed having crafts, a disco and non uniform with the theme of red or hearts.

School will be closed for the Election on Thursday 2nd March. A list of up and coming dates has been sent home with the children. The dates are also on the website and Facebook.

Miss Broly's minions are zooming 'back to the future'; discovering a whole new world of travel from the past. The class display, however, is bang up to date, with examples of transport today.

They even labelled parts of a car!

went down a treat. This is such an important part of learning; building confidence and listening skills. Who knows, we might learn something new.

P2 are concentrating hard and are now writing in full sentences and P1 are well on their way to good sentence work.

Watch this space for Valentines craft!

The wolf pack have been treading into new territory and really enjoyed listening to, and writing about, the musical story of Peter and the Wolf. What musical instrument would you be?

The Environment is such a huge topic and our wolf pack were shocked to learn how long it takes for rubbish to decompose. But learning isn't always about the impending doom of our fragile ecosystem; we also celebrated life, with the many lifecycles of our not so cuddly creatures: frogs, fish and spiders.

Miss Gibson's intrepid explorers will be floating back to EARTH from SPACE and breezing into the topic of Natural Disasters!

Like a tornado crashing to Earth, Valentine's

Day has hit the room with a whoosh. This class are 'feeling the love'.
