

October Newsletter

Principal's Voice:

Some parents approached me last year and offered to organise an evening Halloween event for the children (parents may accompany the children). This was to take advantage of the dark! A planning meeting is being held on Monday 10th October and the event itself will be held on Thursday 27th October. Please try to join us.

We will be starting the NSPCC Keeping Safe project soon. The launch was in September. We are one of the first schools to be included in the project and will keep you updated as we go along.

The latest news from Batcave 1:

ROMANS — Who knew! They were amazing architects. We're learning so much about bridges. So many questions; can our super-brains find the answers in time?

The pupils are strutting their creative stuff and have been taking part in Ross Wilson's art lessons, related to Seamus Heaney.

P 3, 4 & 5

The SUPER GADGET, Activepanel has been a huge hit in Miss Gibson's class. Our little superheroes have been exploring the depths and fun facts about teeth. Brush, brush, brush! Past novels are a huge feature—especially Flat Stanley! The pupils have even discovered their own superpowers and have created Flat Selves! Who knows where they will go next!

P 1 & 2

Miss Brolly's class have been working like mini superheroes; learning all about health and ME! The new SUPERTEACHER GADGET (the Active Panel) has been used to help our growing minds, learn. P1's are all becoming Phonics heroes and developing their skills at handwriting!

The school will be closed for Halloween Holidays for the full week from Monday 31st October to Friday 4th November, 2016.
